

Women Are Pleased With the Attractive Styles of the New Wash Suits

And you will not wonder that they are so eager to purchase when you see the attractive styles being shown. Here are Wash Suits of Palm Beach Cloth, Linen, the new Suitings and other summer fabrics—and every one of them designed to be as attractive looking as garments made of the finest fabrics.

Who Wouldn't Buy a Wash Dress When Styles Are so Pretty and Prices so Reasonable

That is just what one of our customers said the other day when looking over our Wash Dress stock. You know it requires just as much care in selecting styles in Wash Dresses as it does in Dresses made of silks or of the finest woolen fabrics. So when we select Wash Dresses, we always take into consideration the fact that a woman wants to have her Wash Dress look as attractive and fit as well as when she is purchasing finer garments. So when you visit our Garment section, you will be sure to find a Dress patterned after a style that you will be pleased with.

The Dresses are made of various fabrics, including Colored Cottons, Lawns, Voiles and Linens. We could not possibly describe all these styles. Prices range from

$2.98 to $10.00

Have You Given Any Thought to the New House Dress?

Plenty of them here to select from, and every one delightfully fresh and crisp. For the woman who wants to be neatly dressed around her home, the House Dresses at this store will surely interest her, and then, again, prices are so especially attractive that the woman who is quick to see an unusual value will buy at least three or four to last her well up into the fall. An abundance of very attractive styles in Gingham and Percale House Dresses, priced at from

79c to $2.98

THE HOMER FITTS COMPANY

Store Editorial

This store is endeavoring to serve you better day after day. We are trying to make the merchandise we buy fit in closer with the kinds of merchandise you want.

Each day we learn something new, and as we make note of the things of to-day and yesterday, we try to eliminate the things that need not be and add the things that can and ought to be.

Because we've been trying day after day to make this a better store is one of the reasons we are gaining new friends and customers day after day. Are you one of the thousands that know this store for what it really is?

A motor truck driven by Ralph Nelson of Merchant street and a northbound street car collided near the federal building Monday afternoon, but no damage was done, as the car and the truck alike were moving slowly. The conductor lost his hat in the shuffle, but kept his head pretty well, as the saying goes, and the missing headgear was recovered later in the day.

A nocturnal wayfarer pushed his head through one of the front windows in the Quaker Savings bank and the break was not discovered by the bank attendants until this morning. Forces over which the wayfarer apparently had no control at the time of the mishap were responsible for the shattering of the glass, and a close scrutiny of the premises did not indicate that anything had been snatched.

The joint meeting of granite manufacturers and quarry owners, which was scheduled to take place in Manufacturers' hall to-morrow evening, has been postponed until Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Representatives of the Curtis Publishing Co. and the Taylor-Critchfield-Clague Co., who are to present in detail before the meeting the tangible results of the advertising campaign recently launched in the interests of Barre granite, will arrive in the city to-morrow or Thursday to prepare their data.

Mrs. Isabelle Ewen, assistant to the pastor of the Congregational church, and Mrs. Arthur C. Tilden of Highland avenue left the city this morning for Fair Haven, where they are to represent the local society at the annual meeting of the Vermont Woman's Home Missionary Union of the Congregational Church. The convention opened to-day and will not adjourn until to-morrow afternoon.

Among others who are attending the convention are Mrs. O. G. Stickney and daughter, Miss Marion F. Stickney, of Washington street.

Joseph Hoyt and William R. Conner of Merchant street left the city this morning with cows and horses owned by W. H. Conner consigned to Weatherfield, where Mr. Conner has purchased a farm not far from the village of Springfield. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Conner and Mrs. Hoyt will go to Weatherfield to-morrow to reside. Miss Ella Hoyt and her brother, who is a student in Spaulding high school, will not join the family until July.

From the Boston representatives of the Jeffrey Motor Car Co. comes the glad-some tidings that the motor tractor purchased by the city council for the street department early in March was shipped from the factory May 13. Members of the aldermanic street committee are confident that the apparatus will arrive in the city within a few days and will, therefore, hold in abeyance their report to the aldermen this evening on their investigation of the delay in shipping the machine. The truck is to be subjected to a careful tryout before it is put into commission on the streets of the city.

John Berinato is occupying both sides of the store at the corner of North Main and Seminary streets, having leased of the landlord, G. A. Lane, the space recently vacated by Mrs. Foster. Mr. Berinato has extended his shoe store over the entire ground floor space of the store and reserves room for his repair tenement at the rear.

Preliminaries for the interscholastic meet at Burlington Saturday were gotten under way at Goddard seminary to-day, when the trials for the one-mile and other distance events were held. To-morrow the hurdle, broad and high jump competitors will be given their final tryout. Trials are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, and then Friday morning the team will leave for Burlington, in charge of Coach Kinney, who will enter his men in the all-state preliminaries Friday afternoon.

A letter received in Barre last night brought the first tidings to friends in this city of the death of Peter Calagani, a former resident, who passed away at Brenno, Italy, April 27. Mr. Calagani was 40 years old and until a year ago he resided for several years in Barre, having been employed for a long time as a granitecutter in the stonework of Comelli & Sons in Bianchi place. In 1915, Mr. Calagani and his family returned to Italy in the hope that the change of climate would prove beneficial to his health. He is survived by his wife and two children, who were with him at the time of his death.

The following statement from a Boston morning paper will be of interest in Barre, inasmuch as it concerns the alleged assailant of William Mears, a former Barre boy: "Haverhill, May 22.—Dymite Semegen was in court to-day on two counts of assault with intent to murder his wife and William Mears. Pending the outcome of the wounds of the two victims, Semegen's case was continued a week in $20,000 on each charge. Semegen is alleged to have shot his wife and then ran two miles to the home of Mears, shooting him in the shoulder."

Theda Bara in "Carmen" to-morrow night, Park Theatre. Regular prices, 5c and 10c.—adv.

Judge H. W. Scott and Constable George L. Morris motored this forenoon to East Montpelier, where the magistrate presided at a civil hearing. J. Ward Carver of this city appeared for the plaintiff in the case.

Report from Williamstown to-day stated that Oliver W. Martin, who sustained a fracture of the skull and lesser injuries when thrown from his wagon by a runaway horse yesterday, was somewhat more comfortable this morning.

Salvatore Casartelli of Websterville appeared before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court this forenoon, pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense of intoxication and arranged to pay a fine of $15 and costs aggregating $7.46. Casartelli was arrested last night.

Late this forenoon, negotiations were completed over the telephone for a baseball game to be played at the Berlin street grounds Saturday between the Italian A. C. and St. Anselm's college of Manchester, N. H. The Manchester collegians, who were recently defeated in their home city by Goddard seminary, will appear in Barre for the third consecutive season.

Yesterday afternoon the young ladies comprising the teachers' training class of the Chelsea high school, in charge of Miss Olive Calf, their instructor, visited Barclay Bros' large granite plant. Members of the office staff acted as guides, explaining in detail the workings of the many machines and appliances used in the modern production of monumental and mausoleum work. A granite souvenir was presented by the firm to each member of the party upon completion of the tour of inspection.

Barre granite continues to find its way into the less frequented corners of the monumental field, as is evidenced by an order received this week by the World Granite Co. of East Barre through Lazarus & Barton of New York. The memorial, a broken column of good dimensions is to be erected in South America. That the publicity campaign is progressing over a wide area is indicated by the fact that the Barre Quarriers & Manufacturers' association has received two requests from Cuba, another from Dutch Guiana and still another from Tumaco, Colombia, South America, for copies of "Memorial Masterpieces."

Among the visitors in the city yesterday and to-day were the following people: F. L. Cheney of Rutland, Miss Sarah Hanna of Hanover, N. H., F. E. Blake of Bradford, W. J. Newcomb of Burlington, Joel E. Hurtwell of Essex Junction, James A. MacDonald and William Walker of Boston, W. F. Hopkins of Claremont, N. H., H. M. Young of Orleans, H. J. Mundy of St. Johnsbury, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hough of Boston, G. W. Clarke of Morrisville, Miss Margaret Donovan of Proctor, D. L. Hendrick of Springfield, John Laing of Springfield, Mass., A. W. Calkins of Akron, O., Miss J. A. Dole of Boston, G. E. Goodrich of Biddeford, Me., and T. Belanger of Sherbrooke, P. Q.
